Antioch Sakai is On Course for Fall

We've been through selection, installation, "skinning," debugging, testing, vetting, and early training and piloting...

Antioch Sakai is ready for Fall early adopters across the campuses.

Guided by our new Academic Computing Director, Daniel Tyger, and the hard work of the IT staff and the Sakai Implementation and Documentation representatives from each campus, faculty have signed on for live course support in Sakai in New England, McGregor, Seattle, Santa Barbara, and the PhD Program in Leadership and Change. Throughout the Fall, Daniel will be visiting each campus to meet faculty, learn more about institutional needs, and assist in the setup of local training and support plans.

AT Campus Visit Schedule

Daniel Tyger will be visiting your campus on:

Seattle	Sep 29-Oct 5
LA/Santa Barbara	Oct 6-10

Instructional Resources in Sakai

If you are using Sakai for teaching this fall, be sure to check your Quick Links or your My Sites Tab for the Instructing with Sakai site. There you will find Sakai support materials that include recorded training sessions in Elluminate, Sakai tutorials, getting started materials, and tip sheets. You will also find materials and links to other academic technology resources on Web 2.0, e-learning, free courses through the Ohio Learning Network, and more.
