

MA in Clinical Psychology

Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology

Antioch University Santa Barbara's MA in Clinical Psychology prepares practitioners to work in a wide range of community and private practice settings. In addition to a strong foundation that prepares students for MFT and/or LPCC licensure, students can gain specialized expertise in three unique concentrations:

HEALTHY AGING: 96 units

CAMFT Award-winning program! Develop expertise in assessment and intervention with older adults and their families. Learn to assess physical, social, and psychological aspects of aging and the positive, preventative approaches that promote healthy aging and family life.

Scholarships may be available

LATINO MENTAL HEALTH: 96 units

Meet the high demand for qualified, bilingual therapists with specialized knowledge in working within diverse Latino populations. Provide individual, couples, family, and group counseling with Latino clients and within Latino communities.

SOMATIC PSYCHOTHERAPY: 96 units

Learn and practice a cutting-edge therapeutic approach that embraces the interconnection of body, emotion, cognition, and sense of self applied in the treatment of trauma and other stressors.

Our MACP program meets requirements for licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT) and/or Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC) through the California Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS), as well as many other state licensure boards.

Courses are offered in a cohort model and our curriculum is designed so working students who enroll full-time can complete coursework and clinical hours in two years. Our clinical training experience model gives each student the hands-on training experience for becoming a skilled clinician, with over 100 regional training sites available.

BBS-APPROVED PREPARATION FOR LICENSURE

Our program meets the current curriculum requirements for licensure as an MFT or an LPCC through the California Board of Behavioral Sciences (BBS), and in many cases the licensure in other states.

Complete the MACP with preparation for MFT licensure in 90 units over 8 quarters (2 years). Learn a wide variety of established and contemporary approaches to counseling with individuals, couples, families, and groups. Gain a strong foundation as a clinician, and optionally choose one or more specializations in working with older adults, Latino communities, or in somatic therapy.

Antioch University is a not-for-profit private institution accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.
