

Breaking the Glass Ceiling Through Authentic Leadership

A Celebration of International Women's Day

Please join us to gain inspiration and information from an exceptional group of women leaders. Our outstanding panelists, who come from very different backgrounds and industries, will show how you, too, can rise to the top while at the same time serving your community. They're wonderful role models because they've broken through the glass ceiling that held back women for so long.

Antioch's MBA is a socially conscious graduate program that goes beyond the training of typical corporate executives. We aim to educate organizational leaders from all industries who make serving the community their mission.

Barbara Ben-Horin
CEO, Girls, Inc.,
Greater Santa Barbara

Kathryn Burba
US Army Colonel, Retired
Reg. Director, American Red Cross

Lori Luhn
Chief of Police,
Santa Barbara Police Department

Moderated by Barbara Greenleaf
Author, Editor, Blogger, Entrepreneur

EVENT DETAILS:

Friday
March 2, 2018
5:30 – 8:30pm

AUSB
Community Hall
602 Anacapa St.

Business attire
recommended

Please RSVP to:
Lindsay Crissman
Lcrissman@antioch.edu

Antioch University Santa Barbara
602 Anacapa Street
Santa Barbara, CA 93101
antioch.edu/santa-barbara

ANTIOCH
UNIVERSITY
SANTA BARBARA